

SARA AHMED
FEMINIST SCHOLAR
AND WRITER

Knocking on the Door: Complaints and
Other Stories about Institutions

Zoom Lecture
Tuesday, March 16, 2021
1:00 PM

In this lecture, Ahmed will share some stories of making complaints about abuses of power at universities. She will show how complaints can bring so much about institutions into view, and how and why doors come up in stories about making complaints.

Coordinated by Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies Department; Concerned Women of CAS; and HISB, with support from the Office of the Chief Diversity Officer.

Zoom Registration is required for this event.
Registration deadline is March 15.
See our website for details.

Image: Doorway at Princeton University.

Sara Ahmed is an independent feminist scholar and writer. Her work is concerned with how power is experienced and challenged in everyday life and institutional cultures. Her book Complaint! is forthcoming with Duke University Press in September 2021. Her previous publications include What's the Use: On the Uses of Use; Living a Feminist Life; Willful Subjects, On Being Included: Racism and Diversity in Institutional Life; The Promise of Happiness; and Queer Phenomenology: Orientations, Objects, Others.

Part of the Humanities Institute at Stony Brook theme year, "Healing: Survival and Resiliency in the Arts and Humanities". The Humanities Institute at Stony Brook | 1013 Humanities Bldg | Stony Brook University | Stony Brook, NY 11794-5354. If you need an accessibility-related accommodation, please call 631-632-6748. Stony Brook University/SUNY is an affirmative action, equal opportunity educator and employer.

Stony Brook University College of Arts and Sciences

www.stonybrook.edu/hisb